SHIP PROBABLY LOST

Disaster Believed to Have Overtaken Explorers.

DEATH IN THE FROZEN NORTH

It is Believed that the Exploring Ship, "Duchess of Bedford," Will Never Be Heard From Again, as Well as Her Crew.

Athabasco Landing, Canada, Sept. 7.—News of the probable loss of the schooner Duchess of Bedford, the ship belonging to the Anglo-American Arctic expedition which hoped to find a new continent north of the Mackenzie river, was brought here by Alfred Harrison who has been in the arctic circle for two years, and who came here on the steamer Midnight Sun.

Mr. Harrison, said Ernest Stefansson, of Harvard university, after whom the expedition has been called, himself brought the news of the loss of their boat to Herschell island. He also brought the news of the disappearance of three members of the party and expressed the fear that they had met death in the Frozen North.

The missing men are Captain Hikkelson, a Dane; Ernest Leffingwell, of Chicago, and J. M. Marks.

They left the service in February with sixty days' provisions for the supposed land to the north and had been gone seventy days and no news had been received from them. One of their teams of dogs had returned, and it is likely the party will never be heard from again.

The schooner Duchess of Bedford, Stefansson thought, had probably sunk, the ship had filled with water, probably from the ice strain, but they had been able to remove everything of value to the main shore.

KING CAUSED DIVORCE SUIT.

Kentuckian Said To Be Seeking Separation from His Wife.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 7.—A divorce suit which is considered the result of an estrangement caused by King Edward of England has come to light, after having been kept secret since June.

The suit was filed by Lewis T. Brown against Margaret Johnson Brown on the ground of abandonment.

Mrs. Brown is the daughter of C. M. Johnson, formerly European agent of the Hoe Press company, with headquarters in London.

Mrs. Brown was a woman of rare beauty, and attracted attention everywhere. Matters came to a climax when Mr. and Mrs. Brown attended a theater where King Edward was attracted by Mrs. Brown's beauty, and asked an introduction. Brown objected, and his wife ridiculed his objections. To this incident, it is said, is due the estrangement and separation.

Brown returned to Kentucky, and is now in the government revenue service at Maysville, Ky.

TO SAVE AGED MOTHER.

Boy Stops Father's Elopement by Hiring Negro to Kill the Widow.

Millerton, La., Sept. 7.—The mystery surrounding the murder, two weeks ago, of Mrs. Lennie Bond, a comely young widow, and her five-year-old son, by a load of buckshot fired through a window into the bed in which they slept, has been dissipated. It is declared that Benjamin Baucum, 20 years old, son of Dr. J. Baucum, a prominent physician, employed Green Cooper, a negro, to kill the woman, who was 35, upon being unable to persuade his father not to elope with her.

The assassination is said to have been a new application of the unwritten law; that young Baucum planned the deed in order to save his aged mother from disgrace. Dr. Baucum has six children. Benjamin, the eldest, learned that his wather, whose infatuation for the pretty widow was a common scandal, had mortgaged all of his property and intended to desert his family.

The son pleaded with his father not to bring disgrace upon the family and ruin his career, but Dr. Baucum was so madly in love that he declined to give up his passion, commanding his son to keep silent about the proposed flight.

The boy, driven to desperation, concluded that the solution of the trouble lay in the killing of Mrs. Bond.

Both young Baucum and Cooper have been indicted and are in jail at Homer, having been denied bail.

It is expected that their preliminary trial will be held this week.

GIRLS TRAP BURGLAR.

They Entertained Him for Two Hours, He Promised to Reform.

Hattiesburg, Miss., Sept. 7.—After trapping a burglar, Ruby, Jennie and Dora Grey, sisters, entertained their midnight visitor for two hours in such a fascinating manner that the intruder forgot his mission and decided to be good, the sisters say, on promise of his freedom.

The girls had just fallen to sleep when they were awakened by a noise at a window of their room. Each thought it was a sister trying to scare her, but the shadow of a man soon showed them that it was a burglar.

Ruby Grey carefully crept out of bed, crawled to an obsecure position, and, when the burglar entered the room, turned on the light and closed the window. For two hours they pleaded with him to reform. He said he wanted nothing but money. The girls gave him their small change and then he departed. They reported the matter to the police and refuse to give the name that the burglar gave to them. Several rich homes recently have been robbed here, and the owners are displeased with the action of the Grey sisters.

IS LONE BANDIT A GIRL?

Believed Los Angeles Street Car Hold Ups Were by Woman.

Los Angeles, Sept. 7.—For the second time within a week a street car was held up and robbed at the point of a revolver by a robber so slight in figure and possessed of such delicate features that the police believe the crimes to have been committed by a woman in man's attire.

Just before midnight recently a Hooper avenue car, between Ascot park and Compton street, in the suburbs, was boarded by the robber as the car rounded a curve. The motorman and conductor were held up at the point of a revolver, yielding about $4.

Died from Spider's Bite.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—A spider's bite caused the death of Helen, the 15-year-old daughter of Charles Bardnot, a banker of Douglas county, Ill., after six days of intense suffering. The girl was playing in the yard about her home and, becoming tired, lay down on the grass to take a nap. She was suddenly awakened by a sting on her lip and, putting her hand up, brushed off a big spider that was clinging tenaciously. Blood poisoning set in, and despite the efforts of several physicians, she became worse gradually and died.

IS STILL A MYSTERY

No Light Thrown on Killing of Cleveland, O., Broker.

HIS WIFE IS UNDER GUARD

She Has Recovered, After Being in a State of Coma for Twenty-Four Hours—Young Girl Testfiies as to Burglar Theory.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 7.—There were no developments Thursday in the investigation into the murder of John J. Phillips, the extensive coal operator and broker that tended to solve the mystery surrounding the shooting which resulted in his death in his home in East Cleveland early Monday morning.

Mrs. Phillips, against whom warrants were issued, charging her with manslaughter and second degree murder, recovered after having been in a state of coma for twenty-four hours.

Up to a late hour the warrants had not been served upon her, and Chief of Police Stamberg said there would be no hurry, in serving them, as the woman is not only very ill, but is also under guard.

Several friends of Mrs. Phillips were admitted to her room and, it is understood, she is fully cognizant of the charge against her and of other phases of the investigation.

At the coroner's inquest Ethel Clark, known as Ethel Phillips, aged 10, niece of the murdered man and adopted daughter of Phillips, was the principal witness. She told a straightforward story of her knowledge of things that occurred in the Phillips home early Monday morning, when her uncle and adopted father was shot, and clearly showed her belief in the theory that he had ben shot by burglars.

DYING, HE REFUSED LIQUOR.

Memorial Chimes in Honor of Engineer Who Perished in Wreck.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 7.—The heroism and self-sacrifice of John Babb, an engine driver who met his death under his engine in a wreck near Lenoir City, Tenn., Feb. 27, 1907, will be perpetuated in the notes of church chimes which will be placed in the belfry of the new Second Presbyterian church in this city.

A landslide caused Babb's train to turn over down an embankment into the edge of the Tennessee river. Several persons were killed and many were injured.

Babb was pinned under his engine, mortally wounded, when the rescuers reached him and offered him a drink of whisky. He refused, declaring he had never tasted it and never would.

"I am dying, so don't worry about me, but go and help the women and children in the cars," he said, dying a few moments later.

Girl Routs Burglar with Pistol.

Elwood, Ind., Sept. 7.—Miss Ida Giselbach, aged 17 years, was sitting in her room when she heard a step on the stairs. She turned out the electric light and stood at the door of her room with a revolver in her hand. The intruder entered and the young woman turned on the light. With revolver presented she ordered him to hold up his hands, which he did in a hurry. Then she got excited and fired a shot unintentionally, the burglar fell over backward and rolled down the stairs. Miss Giselbach followed and shot five times as he was fleeing from the house.

His death was especially sad as he was his mother's only child. He was buried Thursday afternoon, Rev. E. B. Clark conducting the funeral services. A large number of friends attended the funeral. Mrs. Hobbs has the sincere sympathy of the entire community.

A PROSPECT FOR GAINESVILLE.

Eminent Tennessee Physician May Locate Sanitarium Here.

Dr. G. M. Masters, a noted physician and owner of a sanitarium in Newport, Tenn., is in the city on business connected with the United States land office. Dr. Masters is not here practically on this mission, but he is interested in Florida from a standpoint of bringing health to the invalid, and has an intention of locating a large sanitarium in some part of the State. He was attracted to Gainesville by the splendid reputation of the city for morality and religious and educational advantages, which is known in every part of the United States. Mayor Thomas showed this distinguished visitor about the city, visiting the various places of interest, and at the conclusion of the drive he expressed himself as being well pleased. It may be that he will locate his institution here.

Will Move to Hawthorn.

From Saturday's Daily Sun.

Mrs. Reddick and family, who have been residing on West Main street N. for the past year, expect to leave for Hawthorn today, where the former's daughter, Miss Eddie, has accepted a position on the faculty of the Hawthorn school.

Miss Reddick is one of Alachua county's most energetic, efficient and popular teachers, and the appointment to such important position as has been tendered her is indeed a compliment to one so young.

Mrs. Reddick and family will be missed, but friends wish them much success and happiness in their new home.

RECENT RAINS HAVE DAMAGED THE COTTON

Great Fields of the Staple Are Badly Water-Soaked.

COTTON PICKERS ARE SCARCE

In Some Localities It Has Been Almost Impossible to Secure Labor, With the Result that the Fields Are White—Other Crops Benefited.

While the rains prevailing for the past few days throughout the county have proved invigorating to many of the growing crops, reports are coming in all directions of the great damage which they have inflicted on cotton. This is particularly true in localities where the cotton has been practically open in the fields, and which had not been gathered on account of the scarcity of pickers. The entire staple has become thoroughly water-soaked, and the growers fear as a result a general siege of rust.

The cotton crop throughout the county is estimated at about one-third short, but the quality promised to be superior, had it not been for the rains.

Many of the growers have become discouraged, it is said, but they propose to gather the crop as rapidly as the scarcity of pickers will permit.

CARD FROM MR. ROGERS.

Anticipates His Return Home to Duty With Much Pleasure.

From Friday's Daily Sun:

Editor Sun: If nothing happens to prevent me doing so, I will leave the sanitarium in Atlanta next Monday, the 9th inst, for home, and will arrive Tuesday on the 9:15 a. m. train.

To think of going home again fills me with joy that is inexpressible. My stay from home has been so long, my journey so wearisome, and oftimes the path so thick with dark, dark, shadows overhead, now to think of going back to my home, my people, and my many friends, is indeed a fine treat. Yet there has never been a day's dawn that has not shown a silver sheen beyond the shadows.

My many good friends have dispensed much of happiness and sunshine along the way. The doctors here say in a few months I will be completely well. How good this does sound, and with this bright hope to go back home—

Yes, I am going back home,
I am going back home,
Where the flowers all bloom in May
I am going back home,
I am going back home,
I am going back home to stay.

I have enjoyed the daily visit of The Sun. It is like a letter from some friend. I have noted with a degree of pain the sad events that have come to the town and rejoiced in her many good fortunes and continued improvement. I shall be happy beyond degree to be back at my post of duty, and to lend my might to her welfare. I shall not be able to do much before October or November, but feel that I will now be better off at home. Convey my love to everybody. With bright hopes of seeing you all soon.

Very respectfully yours,
S. B. ROGERS.

I have suffered with tetter for thirty years and have tried almost countless remedies with little, if any, relief. Three boxes of Chamberlain's Salve cured me. It was a torture. EXAMINATION HAS COME TO A CLOSE

Dr. Kelley Is Well Pleased With Personnel of Applicants.

PAYS THEM HIGH COMPLIMENT

Declares It Was One of the Most Intellectual Aggregations He Has Ever Had the Pleasure to Meet—Also Compliments Prof. Cassels.

From Saturday's Daily Sun

After four days' session of examination of applicants for school teachers, the examinations closed Friday afternoon.

The examination, which was conducted by Prof. W. H. Cassels of the Alachua school, was held in the auditorium of the Gainesville Graded and High School, and was well attended, a number of new applicants having entered, many of them nonresidents of the State who have decided to take up the profession of teaching in Florida.

In speaking of the general personnel of the applicants, County Superintendent Dr. J. L. Kelley on Friday stated that he was well pleased. "It is one of the most intelligent appearing aggregations as a whole it has been my pleasure to meet," he said, "and I feel sure that no county in the State will have a more efficient corps of teachers than Alachua during the coming scholastic year."

Dr. Kelley also complimented Prof. Cassels on the excellency of his work and system in handling the examination, which passed off most pleasanly and successfully.

There were only two applicants for teachers in the colored schools. This examination, conducted by Hon. R. B. Weeks, chairman of the Board of Public Instruction, was conducted Thursday.

Both examinations were conducted under the direction of Superintendent Kelley.

The craft is about two feet in length, full schooner-rigged, and has been admired by all the little fellow's friends who have seen it.

Cures Hay Fever and Summer Cold.

A. J. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." J. W. McCollum & Co.

Colored Examination Closed.

From Friday's Daily Sun:

The examination of applicants for colored teachers in the county schools closed Thursday, and Hon. R. B. Weeks, chairman of the School Board, who was conducting the same, returned to his home.

There were only two applicants among the colored people, one male and one female.

The examination of white applicants will be concluded today, when the grading committee will proceed in its work.

WM. B. SHEPPARD APPOINTED JUDGE

Has Been Named to Succeed the Late Judge Swayne.

HE IS A NATIVE FLORIDIAN

And Was District Attorney for the Court—Had the Solid Backing of the State Republican Organization and Also of Many Democrats.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 6.—President Roosevelt yesterday appointed William B. Sheppard United States district judge for the northern district of Florida.

Announcement also was made of the appointment of Charles F. Haskin as postmaster at Sanford, Fla.

Mr. Sheppard is a native Floridian. He was born in Bristol, Liberty county, on October 4, 1869, and for a long time practiced law in Apalachicola. He received his education at Mountain Home, Ala., on the Tennessee river; at Emory College, Oxford, Ga., and in the University of North Carolina, at Chapel Hill, where he was graduated with distinction.

Whilst a student at Chapel Hill he read law also, and he later further pursued his professional studies with the firm of Fleming & Daniels, in Jacksonville. He was admitted to the bar at Bristol in 1891, and removed to Apalachicola, where he began his practice. In 1894 he was admitted to practice before the supreme court of the State, and the various Federal courts.

He is a successful lawyer, and prominent in political life as well. President Harrison appointed him collector of customs of the port of Apalachicola on October 31, 1889, and he served four years under that administration. In 1897 he was again appointed to the important position by President McKinley.

Col. Sheppard is a member of the Knights of Pythias and grand dictator of the State of the Knights of Honor.

He was district attorney for the northern district at the time of Judge Swayne's death, which position he was still filling when appointed to the judgeship.

Col. Chubb is Pleased.

The Sun representative called upon Hon. Henry S. Chubb, register of the United States land office, chairman of the Florida State Central Republican Committee, and one of the wheelhorses of the Republican State organization, who has exerted every personal and political influence in behalf of Col. Sheppard's appointment.

Naturally the reporter found Col. Chubb in a most pleasant mood over the appointment. "As a matter of course, I knew Col. Sheppard would be appointed, as I told you a month ago; but I was unable to state just when the appointment would be made. I did know that the 'plum' would fall within the present week, however."

When asked about the United States district attorneyship, the position left vacant by the promotion of Col. Sheppard, Col. Chubb replied that he had nothing to say at this time.

AN IMMENSE CATTLE DEAL.

John Holly Purchased About 400 Head from the Ramsey Estate

John Holly, the merchant and stockman of Arredondo, may now safely be classed as the leading cattleman of the county, having recently purchased from the Thos. G. Ramsey estate at that place the entire herd of cattle, comprising about 400 head.

With this addition to Mr. Holly's former herd, those in a position to know state that he owns between 1,500 and 2,000 head of cattle. The range is fine, and there is no reason why he should not be independent the balance of his life.

Mr. Holly was in the city Friday, when the reporter approached him in the matter of his recent purchase and his cattle possessions generally. He admitted that he had purchased the Ramsey herd, but declined to give the number of cattle on his range.

"It has been stated, Mr. Holly, that the addition of this Ramsey herd to your range will make you the leading stockman of the county. Is this statement correct?"

"Well," replied Mr. Holly, modestly, "I will have nothing to say regarding that. I will say, though, that my 'bunch' will make quite a showing when I get them all rounded up."

Friends of Mr. Holly will be glad to learn that he is prospering in this, which is rapidly becoming one of the leading industries of the country.

MR. BABERS PLEASED.

Prominent Crescent City Man Says Gainesville is All Right.

Among the prominent visitors to this city for the past two or three days was J. H. Babers of Crescent City, Putnam county, who has been here as a guest of his son, H. J. Babers, one of the stenographers in the office of the Dutton Phosphate Company.

Mr. Babers, who is an extensive grower of peaches at Crescent City, is one of the most widely known men in that section of the county. He expressed himself as being well pleased with Gainesville, so far as he had seen.

"Gainesville has always enjoyed the reputation of being one of the solidest cities in the State," he said, "and we all have recognized that the place has been growing; but I had no idea of the rapidity attending this growth, nor the class of buildings which I see here. Your buildings, both business houses and residences, are modern and up-to-date in architecture, and in every other way, and I certainly congratulate your citizens upon their energy."

Mr. Babers left on the 1:30 train over the Atlantic Coast Line Thursday for home.

MR. HUNDLEY'S APPOINTMENT.

Has Been Appointed Pastor of Baptist Church at Batesburg.

Phillip Miller has received a letter from Rev. W. T. Hundley, for several years pastor of the First Baptist church in this city but more recently from Eastville, Va., to the effect that Mr. Hundley has accepted a call to the First Baptist church of Batesburg, S. C., which is one of the leading churches of South Carolina. He will assume charge of the church on October 1st.

Mr. Hundley is one of the best and most influential preachers Gainesville ever had, and has many admirers here of all denominations. He went to Virginia on account of his health, but having regained same decided to return further South.

The friends here of Mr. Hundley are glad to learn that he has accepted a call so near, as the probabilities are they will see him more frequently.

JUSTICE COLMAN'S COURT.

Colored Woman Had Collector Arrested Upon Flimsy Charge.

There was quite an amusing session of Justice Colman's court Friday morning, which was as ridiculous as it was amusing.

Susie Cooper, colored, purchased a mattress, it is alleged, on the installment plan from the Gainesville Furniture Company, under the regular contract. It also appeared that the purchaser failed to comply with the terms of the agreement, becoming considerably delinquent.

As a last resort, believing that it would be a difficult proposition to collect the balance without using stringent measures, the firm sent a collector to the woman's home with instructions to either return with the deferred payments or the mattress.

This procedure evidently did not set well with Susie, who stood her ground defiantly until she discovered that her muscular proclivities were inferior to those of the collector, who followed the instructions of his employers.

The result was a warrant, sworn out at the instigation of Susie, the charge being breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor. The warrant was served, the case came before the Justice for trial, but that official saw nothing in the case and dismissed the defendant.

WON'T WORK OUT FINE.

White Man Now in Jail Will Give Bond and Secure His Release.

K. W. Fellon, the young white man arrested by Marshal B. T. Arnow as he alighted from a passenger train of the Atlantic Coast Line in an intoxicated condition a few days ago, and upon the person of whom the officer found a 38-calibre revolver, will not have to spend three months in the county "gang," as prescribed by the sentence of Justice Colman's court, according to the statement of Sheriff Fennell.

Fellon went to jail in default of the fine of $100 and costs. He has prepared a ninety-day bond, however, for the payment of the fine, which he says he can arrange to pay within the time prescribed, and when this bond is properly signed and executed it will secure his release.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy One of the Best on the Market.

For many years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has constantly gained in favor and popularity until it is now one of the most staple medicines in use and has an enormous sale. It is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases, such as coughs, colds and croup, and can always be depended upon. It is pleasant and safe to take and undoubtedly the best in the market for the purposes for which it is intended. Sold by all druggists.

Have Gone After Cattle.

Arch L. Jackson and Harry Owens left Friday for the Suwannee river valley for the purpose of securing and driving to Gainesville a herd of cattle for J. G. Harrold.

It is said that the cattle in the Suwannee valley are especially fine this season, notwithstanding the long drought which was broken only a few months ago. The forage has been good, occasioned by the dampness of the lowlands of the valley from the river bed, which was a great help in the matter of sustaining the cattle.

Of Interest to Many.

Foley's Kidney Cure will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more. J. W. McCollum & Co.

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

S. S. S. is recognized everywhere not only as the best of all blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics, but the one medicine that can be taken with absolute safety by everyone. Young or old, those in robust health, or those whose systems are delicate and run-down, may use it with the same good results, and equally without fear of any unpleasant or injurious after effects. Next in importance to removing the cause of any disease is the condition in which the system is left after a course of medical treatment. Medicines containing mercury, potash or other strong mineral ingredients often do permanent injury by eating out the delicate lining and tissues of the stomach, producing chronic Dyspepsia, unfavorably affecting the bowels, and so deranging the system otherwise, that even if the original disease had been removed from the system it is left in such a weakened and deranged condition that the health is permanently impaired. S. S. S. enjoys the distinction of being the only blood medicine on the market that does not contain a mineral ingredient of some kind. It is made entirely of the healing, cleansing extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks gathered directly from the forests and fields of nature, under our own supervision, and when they reach our laboratory contain all their original valuable tonic and blood purifying properties. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that S. S. S. contains a particle of mineral in any form. Being made entirely from these vegetable ingredients S. S. S. is absolutely harmless to the system, and while curing disease adds health and strength to every part of the body. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood troubles by removing the cause and supplying the circulation with health-giving and strength-producing properties.

The following from The Milligan Herald is equally applicable to people in Gainesville and Alachua county: "There are two or three hundred of what are termed honest men and good citizens in Santa Rosa county who are going around the country with our money—money we have honestly earned by hard work—in their pockets and acting as though they didn't owe a cent to anybody or care a cent for anybody on earth. True, we do not need the money, having only a wife and five children to provide for, but then it is ours, and we are tired of seeing you strut around with our money in your pockets. You handle it too carelessly. You are subject to lose it or be robbed. You had better hand it in to us. We are amply able to take care of it, and you would be relieved of the burden of trying to take care of another's money."

RIGHT TO REGULATE RATES.

In the present discussion of railroad rate problems, says The Atlanta Constitution, it is well to keep in view one essential fact. A railroad is a public service corporation. It owes a duty to the public as well as to its stockholders. As a public utility corporation, it is subject to regulation by the State or by a duly authorized commission having authority from the State.

The right to prescribe reasonable rates is clearly set forth in the following extract from a decision by the United States supreme court in a case appealed from Nebraska:

The public cannot properly be subjected to unreasonable rates in order simply that stockholders may earn dividends. The Legislature has the authority in every case where its power has not been restrained by contract to proceed upon the ground that the public may not be rightfully required to submit to unreasonable exactions for the use of a public highway established and maintained under legislative authority. If a corporation cannot maintain such a highway and earn dividends for stockholders, it is a misfortune for it and them, which the constitution does not require to be remedied by imposing unjust burdens on the public.

So where a railroad has so largely bonded its road bed and franchises as to exceed its fair value, and where its capitalization is largely fictitious, it may not impose upon the public the burden of such increased rates as may be required for the purpose of realizing profits upon such excessive valuation or fictitious capitalization. For no road is entitled to realize a given per cent upon its capital stock or property, without reference to the interest of the public.

The burden of proof is on the railroads to show that a rate is unreasonable and, therefore, confiscatory. If unreasonable it should and will be withdrawn.

A fair test will prove the fact.

THAT WHITE HOUSE MORTGAGE.

There is no doubt that when the Wall Street interests, the frenzied financiers and the monopolists who control the tariff protected trusts agreed to finance the Roosevelt campaign in 1904 they were promised that, at least, the administration would not hurt the good trusts and corporations, of which we were assured there were many. In fact, Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, while he was in the cabinet, gave public assurance that the Roosevelt administration "would not run amuck." That assurance, never denied by the President, led to liberal campaign contributions by the corporations. That some of these ardent Republican financiers should feel that they have been deceived was to have been expected and that they are now in the depths of despair is not wonderful. One of the largest commission houses in New York, who is vouched for by The Journal of Commerce as having Republican sympathies, says in their last communication to their customers: "The great throbbing life of business has been stabbed in the vitals. Can the other parts survive? A reassuring statement from the President, that oft-expected will o' the wisp of Wall Street, can have little weight now; the varying character of his utterances in the past have been of such contradictory nature that what he might say again would be ineffectual. It is the uncertainty of what is to come next from an administration infected with delusions and warped by political consideration, the problematical ability of the Federal government to now control the destructive and anarchistic forces it has set loose, that makes the outlook gloomy. It is time for business men to unite in conference and take action to force common sense at the White House."

In the same issue of The Journal of Commerce the Wall Street firm of Carpenter, Baggot & Co. tells its customers that the President and "a weak attorney-general, who delighted in seeing his name in print, and who should never have been in the cabinet, have done more breaking down in confidence, and more injury to business than can be repaired in a year or more." This firm then lets the political cat out of the Republican bag by declaring that "A member of the Republican National Committee tells us that political pressure—which is the only competent pressure—is being brought to bear on the President, and he is faltering; in fact, is scared at his havoc and the wane of his popularity. He has been shown the necessity of great campaign contributions next year to offset the damage he has done, and there are hopes that his loss of political prestige may cause him to appreciate the [illegible]ness of his methods and cause at least a modification of them." It will be interesting to note what effect this "political pressure" will have in forcing "Common Sense at the White House."

Will the money power and the frenzied financiers be able to foreclose their mortgage on the White House?

THE DOG AND THE CRIMINAL.

"The introduction of dogs into the tracing of criminals in New York," says The New York Commercial, "is now apparently only a question of months. So much has recently occurred, both in this country and abroad, to substantiate the claim for great efficiency on the part of dogs in ferreting out those guilty of murder and other heinous crimes that the burden of proof is already upon those who would deny the value of the canine detective.

"While Belgium seems to have been the first country to give the dog a thorough trial in tracing fugitives from justice, so successful were the experiments, especially in Ghent, that France, Austria and Holland have since followed this example. In France has developed a burglar-hunting hound whose work is not only remarkable for a dog, but surpassing that of the police themselves in certain difficult cases. Police dog competions, even, are being held at this time in Paris and, judging by the cabled reports, feats are being performed by the dogs quite astonishing to the police themselves, while crowds watch the animals whenever they appear on the streets.

"As was noted in our columns recently there is already a training school for dogs in tracing and detective work in our own State, and their efficiency has been tested from time to time in one of our smaller cities. Hounds, and especially young bloodhounds, are found to be apt pupils here as they have been abroad. They seem to be especially able to pick up a trail already days old and run it down with remarkable assurance. But the capacity for training in this matter is by no means confined to any one breed, for there have been some remarkable deeds in detective work performed by mongrels picked up as strays in our cities. Nearly every city police department has records and stories of just such dogs.

"The value of dogs as auxiliaries in the life-saving work that devolves on the police who patrol every waterfront has long been understood, and, by careful encouragement, could be easily increased. It would seem therefore that by his watchfulness, his skill in saving life from drowning, and his possibilities in tracing criminals, the trained dog is eminently fitted for a place on the auxiliary police force."

THE FARMERS' IMPORTANCE.

The farmers are a very important element in the population, says The Southern Farm Magazine of Baltimore for September. This is demonstrated by the fact that 10,381,765 persons engaged in agricultural pursuits in 1900 were the dependence for food of the total population of 76,303,387 persons. But if the other 66,000,000 people had not been there, where would the 10,000,000 farmers be? If there had not been 7,000,000 persons engaged in manufacturing and mechanical pursuits, 4,767,000 in trade and transportation, 5,581,000 in domestic and personal service, 1,259,000 in professional service, and their families, the 10,000,000 farmers would have been occupied largely in the unprofitable pursuit of trying to lift themselves by their own galluses. Farmers are in a position to be the most independent human beings on the face of God's green earth. They are very important in human economy. But their importance rests upon the importance of other elements in the population. For instance their position is strengthened very much by an increase in the manufacturing interests of the country.

THE ANTI-CIGARETTE LAW.

The Sun is reliably informed that the law against the sale or giving away of cigarettes to minors is being daily violated in this city, negro men acting as purchasers for the boys who are addicted to the miserable habit.

We commend to the State, county and municipal officers whose duty is to enforce this law its careful perusal, which is as follows:

Section 1. That it shall hereafter be unlawful in the State of Florida for any corporation, company, firm or person to sell, barter, furnish or give away, directly or indirectly, to any minor any cigarette, cigarette wrapper or any substitute for either; or to procure for, or to persuade, advise, counsel, or compel any child under said age to smoke any cigarette.

Section 2. Any such corporation, company, firm or person violating any of the provisions of this act shall, for the first offense upon a conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not more than $50.00, nor less than $10.00; and for a second and any subsequent offense, such corporation, company, firm or person shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not more than $100.00 nor less than $10.00, and to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail for any period not exceeding sixty days.

Section 3. It is hereby made the duty of sheriffs, constables, their deputies or any police officer to enforce the provisions of this act, and he may summon any minor who may have or have had in his possession any cigarettes or cigarette material, and compel him to testify before the county judge or any justice of the peace as to where and of whom he obtained such cigarettes or cigarette material.

Particular attention of police officers is directed to section 3, under which it would seem that the boys could be stopped from indulging in the cigarette habit. Do your duty, officers.

HE NEEDS NO SUCCESSOR.

The Panama Pilot, referring to the candidates for United States Senator, says: "Occasionally some individual in the State is stung by that rather rare pernicious insect, the senatorial bee, and at once announces himself a candidate to succeed Mallory. Just why anyone in this State should for an instant indulge in the thought that Senator Mallory requires a successor is beyond the comprehension of the average Floridian, and quite disgusting to the majority of the voters. Senator Mallory has been a quiet, diligent worker for the State in the halls of Congress; he has succeeded when others have failed; he has been true to the trust reposed in him under all circumstances; and he is a man whom the masses justly honor and care for. He has maintained the high standing of the honorable Mallory name, a name which our State is proud of, and deserves all that Florida can give him in the way of political preferment. There are altogether too few such worthy public servants in Congress, and the people can do no greater honor to themselves than to unanimously resent any effort to replace this tried and experienced worker by anyone whose chief capital is their political aspirations. Let's have no experiments in the matter of a United States Senator."

Sheriff Brown of Brevard and Sheriff Careleton of St. Lucie have arrested 24 fishermen at Sebastian for fishing with seines in violation of the State fish law. We understand that the men have allowed themselves to be jailed, and together, with their friends, have raised $5,000 to test the law. It is true, however, that to fish with seines is against a State law, and it may be that, like many other laws of Florida, it would not hold if tested. The fact that these men have fished with seines in the lower river has made business dull with the fishermen higher up the river. If the practice of thus depleting our waters of fish is continued a prominent industry will soon be destroyed. A prominent fisherman said to the editor that if he could get two years' fishing with seines in Indian river he would then close out—the supply would be exhausted. The case will be one of interest.—Cocoa and Rockledge News.

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

Miss Margaret Bell Taylor, who has been spending the past few weeks at her old home in Virginia, has accepted a position as stenographer at the Gainesville National Bank. Miss Taylor has been for the past two or three years employed in her profession in Jacksonville, and friends here are delighted to learn that she has decided to remain in Gainesville.

The W. G. Hyde Company, one of the largest and strongest concerns of its kind in this section of Florida, has a new advertisement in this issue, in which they advertise September as the bargain month at this great department store. They are offering many choice articles in every department at ridiculous prices, in order to make room for the immense line of fall goods soon to arrive, as the buyer is now in the Eastern markets. Mrs. S. R. Hitch, the up-to-date milliner, has decided to return for the fall, and is also in the Eastern markets selecting material and studying the latest styles. The millinery department will be made a special feature of this great store during the fall.

The Times-Union says "there is a little Japan down the East Coast that is much better than an Oriental colony in a big city. Our Japanese settlement is constantly growing and is making money. It will soon be recognized as one of the show places among the many atractions of Florida." The settlement is named Yamato, and The St. Lucie County Tribune has the following to say of the place and its people: "There are now about forty of the Orientals gathered there, most of them being fruit growers and truck farmers. They raise pineapples and light garden stuff. Their houses are built like those of their native country, with fences about them, the gates of which are fifteen feet high. They cultivate eighty or more acres, and are as prosperous as can be. The people of the surrounding country think well of the Japanese, for the latter are a sociable well-mannered set, and would not for any consideration pass you on the road without waiving their arms in salutation. The colony was established a little less than two years ago. Most of the Japs talk their own language, though a few of them are educated in English. Most of them, too, are bringing over their families. Yamato, as the settlement is called, is about twenty-one miles south of Fort Pierce Beach."

Ground is to be broken and work commenced almost immediately on the new home for the Bureau of American Republics in Washington. This is a matter of more than local interest, for it will not only give Washington another public building ranking almost in beauty with the Library of Congress, but it will be the greatest meeting place for the nations of the world anywhere outside the Temple of Peace at the Hague. The building will cost, ready for occupancy, [illegible] about $1,000,000, of which $750,000 was contributed by Andrew Carnegie. It will be a specimen of mission architecture in compliment to the South American States, and the most striking architectural feature of it will be the central court that will be covered with a glass roof that can be opened in summer and closed in winter. Here there will be a collection of palms and ferns equal to that in a tropical patio. Altogether, it promises to be a remarkably striking building.

The prohibitionists have carried the war into Dade county, and it is possible that the legal sale of whiskey will be prohibited in that county after the 15th of October, the date set for the wet and dry election. Thirteen is said to be an unlucky number, and that is the number of counties in which the sale of whiskey is at present licensed in this State.

Hon. J. J. Johnson, aged [illegible] years, died at his home in Williston on August 30. Deceased was for many years a leading citizen of LaFayette county and represented the district composed of the counties of LaFayette and Taylor in the State Senate for one term. He was a good man and his death is greatly regretted.

MRS. ANNIE B. BAILEY.

THIS WOMAN BEATER GOT JUST DESERTS

For Assaulting Woman He Was Assessed Heavily in Court.

GETS THREE MONTHS IN GANG

Or a Fine of $25 and Costs Was the Sentence Read to Him, and Having No Money He Will Serve His Time. Rather Sensational Case.

E. L. Martin, white, more familiarly known among the class with whom he is accustomed to associate as "Kid," on Friday assaulted Lizzie Berg, a white woman who has been residing on the outskirts of the city for the past few days, and with whom he has been stopping, and Saturday he was arraigned in the city court upon a charge of disorderly conduct.

After the city court had placed a fine of $50 and costs on Martin, it was ascertained that he had no money, hence he was turned over to the custody of the county, and was arraigned immediately before Justice Colman, on a charge of assault.

The Berg woman, who was the prosecuting witness, appeared against the man, relating to the court the terrible treatment she had received at the hands of Martin, whom she declared was very violent. It is said that in the melee the woman had every strip of clothing torn from her person before a public gaze, which was naturally embarrassing, even to Lizzie Berg.

After listening to the story of the witness Justice Colman pronounced Martin guilty, and, after a severe reprimand as to his conduct toward a woman, informed him that he must pay a fine of $25 and costs, in default of which he would be compelled to dig phosphate or chip turpentine boxes for three months as a "guest" of the lessees of the prisoners of the county. Being unable to raise the money, Martin had no alternative but to accept his fate in the convict camps.

This case attracted a great deal of attention, and the little court room was crowded. It was somewhat of a sensational case.

"HE AIN'T STOLE NO WOOD."

That Was the Opinion of Jury Which Sat Upon Brown Case.

The quietude of the past few days in County Judge Mason's court was broken Friday afternoon, when the case of the State vs. Adam Brown, colored, was brought on to be heard.

Brown, who is a well-known colored man about this section, was charged with larceny, the prosecuting witness, Attorney George W. Scofield, alleging that the defendant had misappropriated two cords of wood from his (Scofield's) property.

This case attracted a great deal of interest, as Brown appears to have many friends, a number of whom accompanied him to the court. Others were attracted through mere curiosity, and were on hand to hear the evidence.

The case was tried by a jury, and after hearing the evidence of witnesses in the case a verdict was returned in favor of the defendant.

State Attorney J. M. Rivers appeared for the prosecution, while Attorney Robt. E. Davis represented the defendant.

The jury in this case were John Chesnut, foreman; Geo. S. Merchant, J. U. Manning, J. R. Sanchez, Aaron DaCosta, J. A. Manning.

Moseley Making Improvements.

W. P. Moseley, who recently purchased the Cromwell place in West Gainesville, near the University, has begun to make extensive improvements on the same. The house is receiving needed repairs, is being somewhat altered in its arrangement, and will receive a liberal application of paint, which will materially add to its appearance.

Mr. Moseley has quite a tract of fertile garden land in the enclosure, and will no doubt engage in trucking.

New Lawyer in Town.

A new lawyer has arrived in the city, in the person of Geo. W. Scofield, Jr., who came to bless the household Saturday morning. The little fellow is a twelve-pounder, and his proud "dad" can vouch for his lung proclivities.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Scofield extend congratulations.

MR. RUSH RESUMES DUTY.

United States Special Cotton Agent Begins Work for Season.

Benjamin Rush, United States special cotton agent for the past several years, has begun his annual duties for the year 1907, and has just returned from a tour of points in Alachua, Levy and Putnam counties, for the purpose of gathering statistics of the cotton outlook for the year.

Mr. Rush is not permitted, under the rule of the Government, to divulge any official information, but he intimated that the crop throughout the long staple district, especially in this section, would fall short, which has been conceded publicly.

Mr. Rush states that comparatively few of the gins have yet started up, owing to the scarcity of material with which to work. The fields are white with cotton, a great deal of which has been damaged by the recent rains, but it is almost impossible to secure labor to gather the staple. This is due largely to the fact that the saw mills, naval stores establishments and other industries are paying a higher scale of wages than the grower of cotton can afford to offer.

Some Fine Potatoes.

F. Y. Douglass, who owns and conducts a farm near the English colony, a few miles southeast of the city, is about to get the reputation of being the boss sweet potato grower of this section, if not in the State.

THE NEWS FROM MICANOPY.

Severe Thunder Storm Played Havoc With 'Phones—Personal Notes.

Mr. Fontaine returned from Jacksonville today, where he had been called on account of little John Porter's illness. He reports the condition of the little fellow somewhat improved.

Mrs. Reeves, who has been sick with fever for several weeks, is doing well. No other sickness in town at present.

Mrs. Scales and three children, who have been stopping at the Carolina House the past two weeks, left today for Georgia, where they go to visit relatives.

The Corrs Have Gone.

Mrs. P. W. Corr and daughter, who have been residing with Dr. Corr in the Baptist parsonage, East Gainesville, for the past few weeks, left Thursday for Dade City, which place they will make their home for at least during the coming scholastic year.

Dr. Corr, who is regarded as one of the brightest educators in the State, has been appointed to the principalship of the South Florida Normal Institute, and it goes without saying will make that institution a success. He was a member of the faculty of the State summer training school in this city, which is the highest recommendation for efficiency which could have been bestowed upon him.

An advertisement of the South Florida Normal Institute is running in The Sun.

The Corr family have added a great deal to the society of Gainesville, and it is with regret that our people see them leave.

TERRIBLE STORY OF DEATH CITY

Refined. Gentle Women Ended Own Lives In Mental Agony.

TRUE STORY NOT YET WRITTEN

Harrowing Experiences of Those Who Tried to Reach Klondyke in the First Rush to the Gold Fields—Deserted Town in Canadian Barrens.

Special Correspondence The Daily Sun.

Seattle, Sept. 4.—The intense interest created in everything pertaining to Alaska and Yukon by the advent of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which will be held at Seattle in 1909, has caused old pioneers of the Northland to recall many stories and incidents of the stirring days of the rush of the gold seekers.

No tragedy of ancient or modern times, no dream of Ammegeddon could be more horrible than the story of Death City and the brave band that built it as the terrible winter of 1897-98 was falling. It is a tale of a city that sprang up in a few hours, lasted a season and then was abandoned forever. The remains of this deserted city are situated near the camp headquarters of a tribe of Indians on the Mackenzie river, in somewhat the same lattitude as Dawson and Fairbanks.

Men and Women Rush for Fields.

When the news of the Klondyke discovery reached the outside world several hundred thousand men and several hundred women at once resolved to go to this land of gold. But at that time the best route to reach the country was a matter of fierce debate. The Nome, the Skaguay, the Dyea, the Wrangell, the Valdez, the ..., the Edmonton and the Prince Albert routes were fiercely championed by their respective supporters, and as a result thousands started in for the Yukon by what is now known as the terrible Prince Albert and Edmonton routes.

Thousands Died by Wayside.

The summer of 1897 saw thousands start into the unknown land. Many turned back, many died by the wayside, and the remainder, scurvy-ridden, dirty, hungry, hoarse with that laughter that is worse than tears or hysterics, struggled along till winter began to fall. Most of them followed the Mackenzie, and before they started it was understood that they would camp, for company's sake, to spend the winter at the highest point on the Mackenzie a traveller would reach, the point at which he turned westward to reach the Yukon. There party after party straggled in, frost bitten, starving and hopeless, and those who had arrived before and were somewhat rested built the cabins and tended them till their strength came slowly back.

Frozen and Hungry.

But the food was scarce. The cold had driven the game away. The lack of fresh vegetables made the scurvy worse as the winter deepened. Day by day the steady ring of the pick on the frozen ground told that one more grave was being dug for some unfortunate resident of Death City who had given up the struggle.

Spring Found Few Alive.

When spring came only a few white-faced, gaunt, old looking, stooped and twisted men were left. Food and supplies were long since gone, and the dogs had all been eaten. But the lure of the gold still beckoned, and on they staggered day by day, eating roots and occasionally managing to shoot some game or to snare a rabbit. They finally reached the promised land—only to find that the others who had gone by the Dyea and Skaguay routes had arrived months before and had staked all the good ground in the camp.

Some day some survivor of Death City will write the story of that terrible winter, and will tell the dark stories that are only now whispered; of men turning old in a single week; of women, refined and gentle, who died by their own hand rather than be marked by the terrible scurvy; of heroic sacrifices and of panic stricken cowards whose breaches of discipline were suddenly ended by the crack of a rifle. And in the meantime the deserted tents and decaying cabins and the heaped mounds which cover the losers in all that remain of an experience that few occasions in this world's history have equaled.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

"SHADOW OF THE CROSS."

The Unexplained Miracle Picture at Jamestown Exposition.

(From Atlanta Constitution.)

The many visitors at Jamestown will find "In the Shadow of the Cross" one of the real novelties of the great exposition. It is on exhibition on The Warpath, and is being viewed with wonder and amazement by many thousands.

"In the Shadow of the Cross" was painted by Henry Hammond All, who studied and painted in the art centers of the Old World for many years, devoting his talents mainly to genre subjects.

In September, 1906, he returned to America, his native land, and established his studio in a New England city, where for some time he painted principally portraits and landscapes.

Acting under the influence of some friends, he turned his attention to religious subjects, and, among others, commenced painting a full length figure of Christ, his object being to produce an ideal portrait of the Christ man. At first he did not succeed in attaining his ideal, and the canvas stood a source of trouble and vexation to him.

Numerous visitors were received at his studio, and among them a well-known lecturer on Biblical characters who became intensely interested in this picture and tried to make the artist understand the appearance of Christ as revealed to him in a vivid dream.

All in vain, however, until one day the artist was suddenly impressed with the realization that he had at last conceived the idea sought after. Immediately rising, he painted the wonderful countenance of Christ which is seen in the painting.

Anxious to know what the lecturer would say about the change, he sent for him. On entering the studio the lecturer went into raptures over the picture, exclaiming: "Now you have painted Christ as I saw Him."

Not long afterwards the artist, having to go to his studio at night for some sheets of music, was astounded to discover on entering that his picture could be distinctly seen in the dark, and that Christ appeared to be walking in a pale moonlight, while above and behind could be seen a cross.

His first impression was that the moon was shining through an open window upon the painting, and that the cross was a shadow. He soon discovered a strange cross in connection with this picture, and having used only well-known pigments, he soon realized that this strange quality of his picture was beyond his power to explain. He was so profoundly impressed that he refused to finish it, and the picture remains unfinished to this day.

Deputy Sheriff Kurtz of Volusia county was recently instantly killed by the discharge of his pistol, caused by the weapon falling from his scabbard and striking a plank while he was in a stooping position. He was a fearless, efficient officer and his death is deeply regretted.

As the World Turns.

Ain't no use in grievin'—
You'll all be be safe an' sound
If you're only on the right side
When the World
Turns
Round!

The hurricane can holler—
The earthquake shake the ground
If you're only on the right side
When the World
Turns
Round!

But watch out for old Satan,
Fer he'll git you, I'll be bound,
If you are not on the right side
When the World
Turns
Round!

"Plowin' don't agree with some folks," said Brother Dickey, "an' preachin' makes 'em most uncomfortable hot!"

He Explained It.

A negro who had been arrested on suspicion gave himself away in a clever reply to a question.

"How old are you?" asked the justice.

"I dunno, suh."

"Don't you know your own age?"

"No suh."

"That's strange!"

"You may think so now, suh," was the reply, "but when you has been in the penitentiary as long as I has you'll lose track er time too!"

Brother Dickey's Sayings.

De Truth is de light, but some er us is afraid ter walk in it.

Heaven comes so clost ter earth dat ef de small men wuz higher dey could touch it wid de tips er dey fingers.

De worl' turns round but once in a day, but some folks turns roun' so frequent dey never kin tell what dey looking fer.

The Patience of Satan.

The religious editor of The Whitsett Courier has a queer motto for his department:

"Why should you haste to give
The devil all his due?
Just keep on in the way you live,
He'll wait a while for you!"

Couldn't Fill the Bill.

"You know, Johnnie," said the mother, "the child is father of the man."

"Then," said Johnnie, surveying his father, "but he ain't big enough to whip him!"

Cyrus Townsend Brady has written twelve novels in three years. That's another example of the rate at which we're making literature in this country.

The Office Boy's Opinion.

"If," said the Billville editor, "you see the major coming this way with his shotgun, be sure and let me know."

"He's coming now, sir," replied the office boy, "but I notice that he's 'half-shot' himself, so it will be an easy matter to finish him!"

Too Many Notes.

The Wise Brother.

"When you gits ter glory is you gwine ter ask fer wings an' a harp?"

"Not me! I never wuz much on music, an' ef I had wings flyin' would be hard work ter me up dar!"

She Found Relief.

If you are troubled with liver complaint and have not received help read this. Mrs. Mary E. Hammond, Moody, Texas: "I was in poor health—with liver trouble—for over a year. Doctors did me no good and I tried Herbine, and three bottles cured me. I can't say too much for Herbine, as it is a wonderful liver medicine. I always have it in the house. Publish where you wish."
